Parent/Coach Relationship

Both parenting and coaching are extremely difficult vocations. By establishing an understanding of each position, we are better able to accept the actions of the others and provide greater benefit to students. As parents, when your child becomes involved in our program, you have a right to understand what expectations are placed on your child. This begins with clear communication from the coach of your child's program.

Communications You Should Expect From Your Child's Coach

1. Philosophy of the coach.
2. Expectations the coach has for your child as well as all the players on the team.
3. Location and times of all practices and contests.
4. Team requirements, i.e. fees, special equipment, required paperwork, etc.
5. Procedure, should your child be injured during participation.
6. Discipline that results in the denial of your child's participation.

Communication Coaches Expect From Parents

1. Concerns expressed directly to the coach.
2. Notification of any schedule change well in advance (unless it is an emergency).
3. Specific concern in regard to a coach's philosophy and/or expectations.

As students become involved in the athletic programs at Crook County Middle School, they will experience some of the most rewarding moments of their lives. It is important to understand that there also may be times when things do not go the way you or your child wishes. At these times discussion with the coach is encouraged.

Appropriate Concerns To Discuss With Coaches

It is very difficult to accept your child's behavior when it is inappropriate. It is very difficult to accept your child not playing as much as you may hope. Coaches are human beings. They make judgement decisions based on what they believe to be best for all students involved. As you have seen from the list above, certain things can, and should be discussed with your child's coach. Other things, such as those listed on the next below, must be left to the discretion of the coach.

Issues Not Appropriate to Discuss With Coaches

1. Playing Time
2. Team Strategy
3. Play Calling
4. Other Student-Athletes
5. Position Assignment

There are situations that may require a conference between the coach and parent. These are to be encouraged. It is important that each party involved have a clear understanding of the other's position. When these conferences are necessary, the following procedure should be followed to help promote a resolution to the issue of concern.

If You Have A Concern To Discuss With A Coach, The Procedure You Should Follow

1. Call the school office to set up an appointment with the coach.
2. If the coach cannot be reached, call the Athletic Director, he will set up a meeting for you.
3. Please do not attempt to confront a coach before or after a contest or practice. These can be emotional times for both the parent and coach. Meetings of this nature usually do not promote resolution.

The Next Step

What can a parent do if the meeting with the coach did not provide a satisfactory resolution?

1. Call and set up an appointment with the Athletic Director to discuss the situation.
2. At this meeting the appropriate next step can be determined. Since research indicates that a student involved in co-curricular activities has a greater chance of success during adulthood, these programs have been established. Many of the character traits required to be successful participants are exactly those that will promote a successful life after high school. We hope the information provided here makes you and your child's experience with the Crook County Middle School less stressful and more enjoyable
